WHAT DOES STCU DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand STCU's Privacy Policy.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the accounts or services you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and income information
- Account balances and transaction history
- Credit history and credit scores

When you are no longer our member, we will not share your information except as permitted or required by law or as described in this notice.

How?

All financial companies need to share members' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their members' personal information; the reasons STCU chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.
